

Graduate Credits for Dyslexia Training Institute Personal and Professional Development Courses

A collaboration between the Dyslexia Training Institute (DTI) and the University of San Diego (accredited by the Western Association of Schools and Colleges) allows students in DTI classes to register to receive graduate credits from the University of San Diego (USD). Credits are generally used for educator's certification requirements, salary enhancement purposes and/or transferred to a degree program. However, participants should first consult with the organization requiring the credits for certifications, salary enhancement or degrees to ensure the graduate credits issued from USD will fulfill the specified requirements.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION - PLEASE READ

Both DTI and USD are intent on assuring that the learner is able to maximize the ideas gained by meaningful involvement in the program. Both DTI and USD expects participants to invest a minimum of 15 hours for each graduate credit (minimum 30 hours for two graduate credits) earned by studying, testing, reflecting, and implementing the research-based components of effective reading and writing instruction and strategies for individuals with dyslexia. With this in mind, we anticipate it would require a minimum of three weeks of study and participation to complete each course.

DTI participants in individual courses will be allowed to enroll in and earn graduate credits for only two DTI courses per semester/quarter. (corresponding to university Fall (Sept-Dec), Winter/Spring (Jan – May) and Summer (Jun – Aug) semesters/quarters).

DTI participants enrolled in the Dyslexia Certificate Program will be allowed to enroll in and earn graduate credits for each course in the program they prefer to acquire graduate credits.

Each DTI course must be completed in no fewer than three weeks and no more than eight weeks.

By registering for graduate credits, participants agree to the expectations indicated above.
